BOHEMIAN GROVE: SUMMER HIDEOUT FOR AMERICA'S REPUBLICAN ESTABLISHMENT

Brief timeline of the Bohemian Club and the Bohemian Grove.

1872	The Bohemian Club is organized in San Francisco as a gathering place for men who like the arts and literature. The clubhouse is located in the Astor Hotel on Sacramento Street and the owl is picked as the club's symbol.
1874	The Club has 182 members.
1875	The Bohemian Club's motto, " Weaving spiders, come not here ", first appears on a Club announcement. It was taken from Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream .
1877	The Club has outgrown the Astor Hotel and moves to 430 Pine Street in San Francisco.
1878	Several dozen Bohemians hold a Jinks in the forest in Sonoma County near what is now known as Camp Taylor (California Historical Society, Bohemian Club 1947). This will be the start of a long Bohemian tradition of trekking to the Sonoma County redwoods during July and August of each year for camping and entertainment.
1882	The Club's patron saint becomes John of Nepomuk. Legend has it that St. John was killed in 1393 at the orders of Wenceslaus IV, King of the Bohemians & King of the Holy Roman Empire.

	because he didn't want to disclose the confessional secrets of Queen Johanna of Bohemia. Today, St. John symbolizes the right to privacy of the Bohemians.
1885	The extremely successful Joseph D. Redding is elected president of the Bohemian Club. He will devise the Cremation of Care in 1893. Where he got his inspiration for the ceremony isn't clear. Redding is a very successful attorney for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, owned by the Rockefeller-connected Pilgrims Society families of Harriman & Harkness. Redding is considered a musical genius.
1887	The Club has 561 members, which are a combination of literary figures and San Francisco businessmen. Among them are 4 members of the Crocker banking family, 3 Spreckles, William Randolph Hearst, Bay Area shipbuilder Arthur W. Moore, columnist and writer Ambrose Bierce, writer Henry George, and 14 officers from the Army and Navy. Other Bohemian Club writers are Charles K. Field, Ina Coolbrith, Bret Harte, Daniel O'Connell, and Mark Twain.
1893	Joseph D. Redding creates the Cremation of Care and serves as High Priest of Bohemia during this ceremony. Within a couple of years he will move his business to New York where he also becomes part of high society.  The Bohemian Club starts renting a piece of land in the Sequoia Valley from the Sonoma Lumber Company. They will do this until 1899 when they make their first land purchase.
1899	The Bohemian Club buys a 160 acre piece of land in the Sequoia Valley, today known as the Bohemian Grove. The Club will make twenty-eight purchases of land over a 67 year period. Today it owns 2,712 acres. The New York Times writes two articles about the Cremation of Care and how impressive it is.
1905	The Washington Post reads: " The Taft party to-day visited the Bohemian grove of redwoods... ", which is the first reference I have seen to presidents visiting the Bohemian Grove.
1913	The Cremation of Care ceremony is moved to the first weekend of the encampment.
1914	The Bohemian Club has 1259 members, of which 787 resident members, 241 non-resident members, 19 Navy officers, 49 Army officers, 29 faculty members, 114 associate members, and 20 honorary members.
mid 1920s	The Lake is built. It is about 100 feet wide and 400 feet long. Or for everybody outside of the United States: 30 meters wide and 124 meters long.
1929	The concrete owl is build. There are 169 different camps in the Bohemian Grove at this point.
summer 1933	The Club takes up residence at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel when the dismantling of the old clubhouse begins. The club has grown to about 2000 members. A large new Club House is opened the following year.
1941	Membership drops to 1643 due to World War II.
1950	Big names as Eisenhower, Herbert Hoover and Edward Teller are visiting the Grove.
1977	Big names as Henry Kissinger, George Shultz, John McCone, Gerald Ford, the Kaisers and Bechtels are present at the prestigious Mandalay Camp at the Bohemian Grove.

<https://isgp->

1981	The Lake is relined with earth and concrete. It has an artificial waterfall tumbling into it, and water lilies are kept in natural-looking patterns by water jets embedded in the lake bottom. The only natural aspect to the lake is the early morning mist rising off it every morning.
1994	There are 124 camps in the Bohemian Grove.

British visitors

Historically British Bohemian Grove visitors appear to have been closely connected to the British royal family and the major banks in London. In later years we also see a variety of intellectuals appear. The individuals below are the only ones that I've been able to find so far.

Prince Philip	Sources: 1972, Norman Loyall McLaren, "Prince Philip in the Grove (p. 456; page includes picture of Prince Philip at the Grove)" Made an off-season visit to the Bohemian Grove in November 1962.
Queen Elizabeth	Reports exist that the Queen visited the Bohemian Grove in 1983. This would be interesting to confirm or disprove, especially because ordinarily women aren't allowed in the Bohemian Grove.
Andrew Knight	Sources: 1994, Peter Martin Phillips, 'A Relative Advantage: Sociology of the San Francisco Bohemian Club, Appendix F' June 19, 2001, Counterpunch, 'Meet the Secret Rulers of the World' Relatively recent visitor of camp Mandalay. Governor of the Ditchley Foundations since 1981. Editor of The Economist and expanded its offices to Brussels. Director of Rothschild Investment Trust since 1997. Important functions at Rupert Murdoch's News Corp. and BskyB. Director of Reuters. Governor of the Atlantic Institute for International Affairs. Governing council of the Royal Institute of International Affairs. Member of the steering committee of Bilderberg.
John Major	Sources: July 12-18, 2001 issue of the Northern California Bohemian Recent visitor who gave at least one speech at the Bohemian Grove. Prime Minister of the U.K. 1990-1997. Chairman of Carlyle Europe since 2001. Chairman of the Ditchley Foundation since 2005 and a member of the Queen's Privy Council. Robert Cecil, a Cercle member of one of the oldest aristocratic families in Great Britain, and former Rothschild employee and Cercle chairman Lord Norman Lamont were running his election campaigns.

"Prince William and his wife Catherine will go "under the radar" for the rest of the year, keeping a low profile after their stellar tour of North America, royal officials said on Tuesday.

"The couple, both aged 29, also want to avoid overshadowing Queen Elizabeth II in the run-up to 2012, the 85-year-old monarch's diamond jubilee year, a spokesman for their St James's Palace office said.

"Since they got married they were on honeymoon, in London for most of June for family events and other events and want to go back and have a married life together under the radar, and enjoy their life in Anglessey," said the spokesman.

"The couple are set to attend the wedding of William's cousin Zara Phillips and England rugby star Mike Tindall in Edinburgh later this month, a handful of routine public engagements and Remembrance Sunday in November, becoming the war dead.

JULY 8 - Britain's Prince William and his wife Catherine, Duchess of Cambridge, wave as they board a Canadian air force jet at the end their visit of Canada in Calgary, Alberta. The royal couple travel to Los Angeles.

JULY 10 - And There They Go - Prince William and Kate Middleton Leave California

I found photo ops of them boarding a plane in London on June 30, 2011 (video here) and arriving in Canada on July 1, 2011 (video here) and then departing Canada on July 8, 2011 (photo above) and arriving in Los Angeles on July 9, 2011 (video above).

Also, I found a photo of them at LAX with the caption saying they are preparing to return home (photo above), but no photo or video in the UK of them arriving home -- just a statement from a spokesperson on July 11, 2011, saying: "They have landed in London, that was this morning."

Three-establishment-model

Liberal *

(Pilgrims network)

- Pilgrims Society
- All major N.Y. banks & law firms (London also)
- Federal Reserve
- CFR, Bilderberg, Trilateral Commission, etc.
- State Department
- Early CIA (Dulles, Helms)
- Liberal E.U. elements (mainly non-Catholic)
- Anglo-American "special relationship"
- Rockefeller, Ford and Carnegie foundations
- New York Times, Time, Newsweek, Washington Post, U.K.: Reuters, FT.
- Backs both Republicans and Democrats (Carter, Clinton, Obama)
- Anglican/Episcopal church
- Prefers Arab oil over an U.S.-Israel alliance
- Pro-United Nations
- Pro-containment
- Pro-détente
- Anti-roll back
- Anti-SDI / Star Wars
- Pro-Strategic Arms Limitation Talks
- Anti-tactical nukes
- pro-Afghanistan invasion
- Anti-Iraq invasion
- Pro-global warming theories
- Pro-New Age world religion

Conservative **

(ASC-Cercle network)

- Le Cercle, WACL
- American Security Council, CSP, etc.
- Often strong in DoD
- CIA network & covert ops (death squads, E.U. fascist armies)
- Wackenhut
- Old right, religious right; now neoconservative-dominated
- Primarily hawkish Republicans with a few Democrats.
- Close to Moonie cult
- Allied with Vatican-Panepura network (Opus Dei, Knights of Malta although today split over Israel policy)
- Since late 70s picks Israel over Arab oil
- Anti-United Nations
- Anti-containment
- Anti-détente
- Pro-roll back
- Pro-SDI / Star Wars
- Anti-Strategic Arms Limitation Talks
- Pro-tactical nukes
- Pro-Afghanistan invasion
- Pro-Iraq invasion
- Anti-global warming theories
- Pro-"NWO"-related theories as propaganda

Zionist

(from Israel)

- Israeli government and Mossad
- Israel lobby in the U.S.
- Allied U.S. think tanks as WINEP and others.
- Think tank network as ICFR and others.
- Works through intern. Jewish communities
- Many friendly banks
- Works with Russian oligarchs and mafia
- Long history of covert operations alongside the CIA (in other times opposed by it)
- Very anti-communist (and in that sense allies of the conservatives)
- Very anti-Arab
- Works with but also distrusts other establishments for their historical support of fascism and the Arabs
- Aggressively protects the interests of Israel and the Jews (to prevent another holocaust)

* Eastern / Harvard / Anglo-American Establishment.

** Misnamed the Military-Industrial Complex by the soon-to-be Pilgrims exec., President Eisenhower. Also known as Defense Establishment or National Security Establishment.

Additional note: Some of the most dynastic families in Britain tend to be members of the Roxburgh Club, the Other Club and the Grillion's Club.

Organizations of which the founders, senior leadership or important members are represented in one of the three primary groups listed above. The purpose of this model is to show that power seems to be much more concentrated in the Western world than has previously been assumed. Aspects of this permanent "superclass" include banking; law; oil, mining and shipping; diplomacy and politics; intelligence; private think tanks and foundations; social clubs; and a number of prestigious universities.

Institute of the Study of Globalization and Covert Politics (ISGP) '04 - '10

ISGP's Superclass Index: Lifetime NGO involvement

Domestic policy, foreign policy, national security, economics, networking/social

GREEN:	Career in banking, corporations, in economic government posts, or science.
YELLOW:	Congress, senate, judiciary, lower level government position, or (vice) president.
RED	Military career, defense secretary, CIA, national security advisor or national security scholar/scientist.
BLUE:	State Department.
GRAY:	Soviet/nationalist Russian

Brief timeline of the Bohemian Club and the Bohemian Grove.

1872	The Bohemian Club is organized in San Francisco as a gathering place for men who like the arts and literature. The clubhouse is located in the Astor Hotel on Sacramento Street and the owl is picked as the club's symbol.
1874	The Club has 182 members.
1875	The Bohemian Club's motto, "Weaving spiders, come not here", first appears on a Club announcement. It was taken from Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream .

1877	The Club has outgrown the Astor Hotel and moves to 430 Pine Street in San Francisco.
1878	Several dozen Bohemians hold a Jinks in the forest in Sonoma County near what is now known as Camp Taylor (California Historical Society, Bohemian Club 1947). This will be the start of a long Bohemian tradition of trekking to the Sonoma County redwoods during July and August of each year for camping and entertainment.
1882	The Club's patron saint becomes John of Nepomuk. Legend has it that St. John was killed in 1393 at the orders of Wenceslaus IV, King of the Bohemians & King of the Holy Roman Empire, because he didn't want to disclose the confessional secrets of Queen Johanna of Bohemia. Today, St. John symbolizes the right to privacy of the Bohemians.
1885	The extremely successful Joseph D. Redding is elected president of the Bohemian Club. He will devise the Cremation of Care in 1893. Where he got his inspiration for the ceremony isn't clear. Redding is a very successful attorney for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, owned by the Rockefeller-connected Pilgrims Society families of Harriman & Harkness. Redding is considered a musical genius.
1887	The Club has 561 members, which are a combination of literary figures and San Francisco businessmen. Among them are 4 members of the Crocker banking family, 3 Spreckles, William Randolph Hearst, Bay Area shipbuilder Arthur W. Moore, columnist and writer Ambrose Bierce, writer Henry George, and 14 officers from the Army and Navy. Other Bohemian Club writers are Charles K. Field, Ina Coolbrith, Bret Harte, Daniel O'Connell, and Mark Twain.
1893	Joseph D. Redding creates the Cremation of Care and serves as High Priest of Bohemia during this ceremony. Within a couple of years he will move his business to New York where he also becomes part of high society.  The Bohemian Club starts renting a piece of land in the Sequoia Valley from the Sonoma Lumber Company. They will do this until 1899 when they make their first land purchase.
1899	The Bohemian Club buys a 160 acre piece of land in the Sequoia Valley, today known as the Bohemian Grove. The Club will make twenty-eight purchases of land over a 67 year period. Today it owns 2,712 acres. The New York Times writes two articles about the Cremation of Care and how impressive it is.
1905	The Washington Post reads: "The Taft party to-day visited the Bohemian grove of redwoods...", which is the first reference I have seen to presidents visiting the Bohemian Grove.
1913	The Cremation of Care ceremony is moved to the first weekend of the encampment.
1914	The Bohemian Club has 1259 members, of which 787 resident members, 241 non-resident members, 19 Navy officers, 49 Army officers, 29 faculty members, 114 associate members, and 20 honorary members.
mid 1920s	The Lake is built. It is about 100 feet wide and 400 feet long. Or for everybody outside of the United States: 30 meters wide and 124 meters long.
1929	The concrete owl is built. There are 169 different camps in the Bohemian Grove at this point.
summer 1933	The Club takes up residence at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel when the dismantling of the old clubhouse begins. The club has grown to about 2000 members. A large new Club House is opened the following year.
1941	Membership drops to 1643 due to World War II.
1950	Big names as Eisenhower, Herbert Hoover and Edward Teller are visiting the Grove.
1977	Big names as Henry Kissinger, George Shultz, John McCone, Gerald Ford, the Kaisers and Bechtels are present at the prestigious Mandalay Camp at the Bohemian Grove.
1981	The Lake is relined with earth and concrete. It has an artificial waterfall tumbling into it, and water lilies are kept in natural-looking patterns by water jets embedded in the lake bottom. The only natural aspect to the lake is the early morning mist rising off it every morning.

1994	There are 124 camps in the Bohemian Grove.
